From your pastor . . .

This column will reproduce the final installment of Cardinal Raymond L. Burke's letter written to the U.S. Bishops and the Catholic Faithful considering the question of whether a politician or legislator who is in favor of abortion on demand can legitimately present him or herself as a Catholic in good standing and receive Holy Communion. The Cardinal's letter appears in italics.

Seventeen years have passed since the meeting of the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops in Denver during the month of June of 2004. The most serious question of the application of can. 915 of the Code of Canon Law to Catholic politicians who support and promote programs, policies and legislation in grievous violation of the natural moral law seemingly remains a question for the Conference of Bishops. In fact, the obligation of the individual Bishop is a matter of universal Church discipline, regarding faith and morals, over which the Conference of Bishops has no authority. In fact, a number of Bishops have understood their sacred duty in the matter and are taking appropriate action. A conference of Bishops fulfills an important role of support for the Diocesan Bishop, but it cannot replace the authority that belongs properly to him. It is the Diocesan Bishop, not the Conference, that applies the universal law to a particular situation. (Cf. Canon 447).

The work of the Conference of Bishops is to assist the individual Bishops in carrying out their sacred duty, in accord with can. 447 of the Code of Canon Law: "A conference of bishops, a permanent institution, is a group of bishops of some nation or certain territory who jointly exercise certain functions for the Christian faithful of their territory in order to promote the greater good which the Church offers to humanity, especially through forms and programs of the apostolate fittingly adapted to the circumstances of time and place, according to the norm of law." What more corresponds to the promotion of the "greater good which the Church offers to humanity" than the safeguarding and fostering of human life created in the image and likeness of God (Cf. Gen 1, 27), and redeemed by the Most Precious Blood of Christ, God the Son Incarnate (Cf. 1 Pet 1,2, 19; 1 Jn1,7; Rom 3, 25; Eph 1,7; and Heb 9,12; and Rev. 1,5), by correcting the scandal of Catholic politicians who publicly and obstinately promote procured abortion.

I invite you to pray with me for the Church in the United States of America and in every nation, that, faithful to the mission of Christ, her Bridegroom, she will be faithful, limpid and uncompromising in the application of can. 915, defending the sanctity of the Holy Eucharist, safeguarding the souls of Catholic politicians who would grievously violate the moral law and still present themselves to receive Holy Communion, thereby committing sacrilege and preventing the most serious scandal caused by the failure to observe the norm of Can. 915.

May God bless you and your homes. Please pray for me and especially for the recovery of my health.

Yours in the Sacred Heart of Jesus and the Immaculate Heart of Mary, and in the Purest Heart of Saint Joseph,

Raymond Leo Cardinal Burke

As indicated above, this is the last installment of Cardinal Burke's letter. The other installments appear in the past bulletins that are archived on our parish website, www.stmarysrc.com.

Until I write again, may God bless you and all the parishioners of Saint Mary's Parish.
